

Earth Day

7:00 AM – 10:00 AM, Saturday, April 22 2017

The picturesque Cayman Islands are a beautiful and wonderful place to live. With crystal clear waters, spectacular coral reefs, golden beaches and gorgeous weather, it's unsurprising that people are envious of our paradise. But it's imperative that we keep our Islands to this picturesque standard.

The Cayman Islands Chamber of Commerce knows the perfect way to keep Cayman clean for all residents and visitors, and that is through our annual Earth Day Clean-up which takes place on Saturday, April 22 2017.

Thousands of Cayman Islands residents from schools, businesses and community groups will join forces in picking up litter and dumped waste in zones around the Island, with waste removal services clearing up the hundreds of bin bags we fill.

The hard-work is illustrative of the Cayman Islands' fantastic close-knit community, and it ensures that our environment and eco-systems remain safe and hygienic for us all, and that our habitats remain intact for wildlife on land and in the sea.

All volunteers will receive clean-up materials, and some will be able to claim a beautiful Earth Day collectors T-shirt designed by Dr. Guy Harvey, of which there are a limited supply.

Several hours of tremendous effort are rounded off with a communal gathering, where a brunch will be served as a thank you for all of the successful cleaning done through the morning

The Chamber would be appreciative and grateful if you would consider sponsoring and volunteering for such an important event.

Together, with your support, we can work together to be a catalyst for positive change to help keep our Islands as safe, healthy and visually stunning as they should always be.
